No.	English	P.O.S.	Korean	Example
1	■■ ■■, where + ■	conj. (relative)		The conference will be held in Busan, _____ the company was founded.
2	by + ■■	prep.		Please submit the report _____ 4 p.m. today.
3	be accustomed to V-ing	adj. phr.		Most of our staff are _____ working overtime in December.
4	intangible	adj.		Good will is an _____ asset that is hard to measure in money.
5	go into effect	v. phr.		The new parking rules will _____ on Monday.
6	in order to V	phr.		_____ save energy, the office turns off the lights at night.
7	tangible results	n. phr.		The new training program has already produced _____ in sales.
8	until + ■■	prep.		The store stays open _____ 9 p.m. on weekends.

No.	English	P.O.S.	Korean	Example
1	intangible	adj.		Good will is an _____ asset that is hard to measure in money.
2	in order to V	phr.		_____ save energy, the office turns off the lights at night.
3	by + ■■	prep.		Please submit the report _____ 4 p.m. today.
4	be accustomed to V-ing	adj. phr.		Most of our staff are _____ working overtime in December.
5	■■ ■■, where + ■	conj. (relative)		The conference will be held in Busan, _____ the company was founded.
6	until + ■■	prep.		The store stays open _____ 9 p.m. on weekends.
7	go into effect	v. phr.		The new parking rules will _____ on Monday.
8	tangible results	n. phr.		The new training program has already produced _____ in sales.

No.	English	P.O.S.	Korean	Example
1	in order to V	phr.		_____ save energy, the office turns off the lights at night.
2	■■ ■■, where + ■	conj. (relative)		The conference will be held in Busan, _____ the company was founded.
3	intangible	adj.		Good will is an _____ asset that is hard to measure in money.
4	until + ■■	prep.		The store stays open _____ 9 p.m. on weekends.
5	by + ■■	prep.		Please submit the report _____ 4 p.m. today.
6	go into effect	v. phr.		The new parking rules will _____ on Monday.
7	be accustomed to V-ing	adj. phr.		Most of our staff are _____ working overtime in December.
8	tangible results	n. phr.		The new training program has already produced _____ in sales.