Dorsey Manufacturing to Expand Training Center

WESTON (August 11)—Dorsey Manufacturing, which produces precision parts for aircraft engines, announced on Monday that it will double the size of its employee training center on Industrial Parkway. The expansion, expected to cost $6 million, will add classrooms, a computer lab, and a workshop equipped with the same machines used on the company's production floor.

Chief operating officer Lena Marsh said the company has struggled to find enough skilled machinists as many longtime employees approach retirement. Rather than compete with other manufacturers for a limited pool of experienced workers, Dorsey has chosen to train its own. Since the center opened four years ago, more than 150 employees have completed its eighteen-month program, and nearly all of them still work at the company.

The expanded center will also offer evening courses to Weston residents, a move that Ms. Marsh said would help the company build stronger ties with the community.

(C) To reduce its spending on new machines
(D) To develop a new type of aircraft engine

Local Firm Turns Coffee Grounds Into Profit

By Hana Ruiz

When Theo Brandt worked as a barista during college, he was struck by how much used coffee his café threw away each day. — [1] —. Six years later, his company, GroundUp, collects spent grounds from more than 200 cafés in the Portland area and turns them into garden fertilizer and a line of body scrubs sold in natural food stores.

The idea was not new, Mr. Brandt admits; several companies in Europe already sold similar products. What set GroundUp apart was its collection system. Rather than charge cafés for pickup, the company offers it free, since cafés would otherwise pay to have the waste hauled away. — [2] —.

Growth has brought challenges. Coffee grounds spoil within days, so GroundUp must process them quickly, and last winter a broken dryer forced the company to turn away deliveries for nearly two weeks. — [3] —. This spring, GroundUp moved into a larger facility in the Riverside industrial district, where it installed two additional dryers.

Mr. Brandt now plans to sell his fertilizer to commercial farms, which buy in far larger quantities than home gardeners. — [4] —.

164. What is the article mainly about?

(A) A café chain opening new locations
(B) A business built on coffee waste
(C) A new type of coffee machine
(D) Farming methods used in Europe

165. According to the article, what set GroundUp apart from earlier companies?

(A) The price of its body scrubs

(D) The variety of coffee it sold

166. What is suggested about last winter?

(A) The company lost some potential supply.
(B) The company opened a second facility.
(C) The company first sold fertilizer to farms.
(D) The company stopped making body scrubs.

(B) [2]

|---|---|
| To: | Karen Liu |
| From: | Samuel Ortiz, Ortiz & Reyes Architects |
| Date: | February 9 |
| Subject: | Clinic design |

Dear Ms. Liu,

Thank you for meeting with us last Thursday to discuss the new Westside Family Clinic. Based on that conversation, we have revised the floor plan, which I have attached. As you requested, the waiting area has been moved closer to the main entrance, and the number of examination rooms has been increased from eight to ten. To make room for them, we reduced the size of the staff lounge, although it still meets the minimum required by the building code.

We were unable to include the rooftop garden you mentioned. The structural engineer we consulted advised that the roof, as currently designed, could not support the weight of the soil without significant reinforcement, which would add approximately $85,000 to the project. If you would still like to pursue it, we can discuss options at our next meeting.

Please review the attached plan and send any comments by February 20 so that we can begin preparing the construction drawings in early March.

Sincerely,
Samuel Ortiz

168. Why did Mr. Ortiz write the e-mail?

(A) To request payment for an engineer
(B) To schedule a building inspection
(C) To recommend a different site
(D) To share an updated design

169. What change was made to the plan?

(A) Additional exam rooms
(B) A larger staff lounge
(C) A new main entrance
(D) A garden on the roof

170. What is indicated about the rooftop garden?

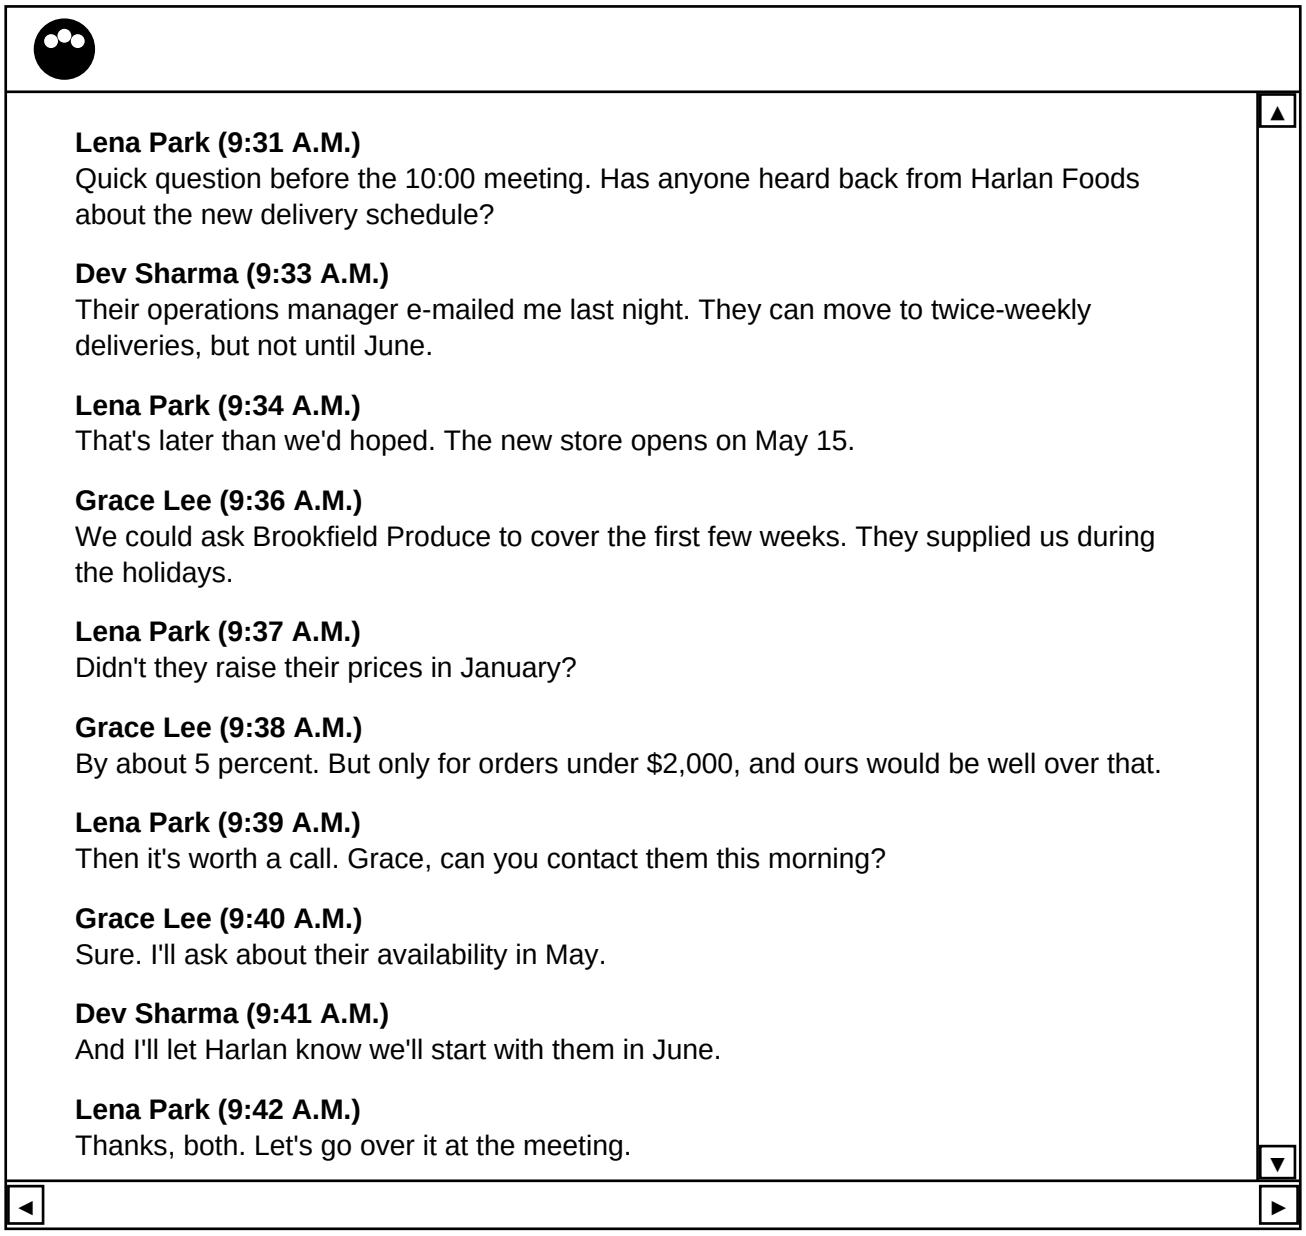

(A) It was requested by the engineer.
(B) It will be added in early March.
(C) It meets the building code.
(D) It would require extra structural work.

171. By when does Mr. Ortiz want Ms. Liu to send her comments?

(A) February 20
(B) February 9
(C) Early March
(D) Next Thursday

Questions 172-175 refer to the following online chat discussion.

Lena Park (9:31 A.M.)
Quick question before the 10:00 meeting. Has anyone heard back from Harlan Foods about the new delivery schedule?

Dev Sharma (9:33 A.M.)
Their operations manager e-mailed me last night. They can move to twice-weekly deliveries, but not until June.

Lena Park (9:34 A.M.)
That's later than we'd hoped. The new store opens on May 15.

Grace Lee (9:36 A.M.)
We could ask Brookfield Produce to cover the first few weeks. They supplied us during the holidays.

Lena Park (9:37 A.M.)
Didn't they raise their prices in January?

Grace Lee (9:38 A.M.)
By about 5 percent. But only for orders under $2,000, and ours would be well over that.

Lena Park (9:39 A.M.)
Then it's worth a call. Grace, can you contact them this morning?

Grace Lee (9:40 A.M.)
Sure. I'll ask about their availability in May.

Dev Sharma (9:41 A.M.)
And I'll let Harlan know we'll start with them in June.

Lena Park (9:42 A.M.)
Thanks, both. Let's go over it at the meeting.

172. What problem are the writers discussing?

(A) A store opening has been delayed.
(B) A supplier cannot meet a desired timeline.
(C) A delivery arrived damaged.

(A) It can deliver only twice a week.
(B) It charges more than Harlan Foods.
(C) It recently opened a new store.
(D) It has supplied them in the past.

174. At 9:38 A.M., why does Ms. Lee write, "But only for orders under $2,000"?

(A) To show the higher price may not matter
(B) To point out a mistake on a recent invoice
(C) To suggest splitting the order into smaller ones
(D) To explain why another supplier was chosen

175. What will Mr. Sharma most likely do next?

Date: February 4
Subject: Booth reservation

Hello,

Greenleaf Landscaping exhibited at your expo for the first time last year, and the response from visitors was so positive that we would like to return with a larger presence. Last year we had a standard booth in the center aisle, but this time we would like a space that visitors can approach from two sides, since we plan to display a small patio garden. We will also need power for our lighting.

Our van will not arrive in Boston until the morning of April 24, because our crew will be finishing a project in Maine the day before. Will that leave us enough time to set up? Finally, a partner company, Stone & Tile Supply, has asked whether it could display a few of its products in our space.

Best regards,
Rachel Tom, Marketing Director

Bayview Theater Launches Pay-What-You-Can Nights

SANTA CLARA (September 8)—Starting this season, the Bayview Repertory Theater will set aside the first Wednesday performance of every production as a "pay-what-you-can" night. Tickets for these performances can be purchased only in person at the box office, which opens at noon on the day of the show, and buyers may pay any amount they choose, with a minimum of $1. Regular tickets range from $35 to $68.

Artistic director Paul Nguyen said the theater hopes to attract audiences who would not otherwise attend live performances. "Ticket prices have kept many people away, especially students and young families," he said. A similar program at a theater in Portland more than doubled the number of first-time visitors in its first year.

The season opens on October 1 with The Lighthouse Keeper, which will run through October 26.

Dear Mr. Nguyen,

I am writing to thank you for the new pay-what-you-can program. On Wednesday evening, I took my two teenage children to see The Lighthouse Keeper. It was the first time either of them had seen a play, and they have talked about it ever since. Without the program, we simply could not have afforded three tickets.

I do have one suggestion. I arrived at the box office about an hour after it opened, and there was already a long line. Because I work during the day, I worried that the performance would sell out before I got there. Would you consider allowing at least some tickets to be reserved by phone?

Sincerely,
Irene Castillo

Seasonal Positions at Lakeshore Lodge

Lakeshore Lodge, a 120-room resort on the shores of Lake Avery, is hiring seasonal staff for the summer season, which runs from May 25 through September 7. Positions are available at the front desk, in housekeeping, and in our two restaurants, the Birchwood Grill and the more casual Dockside Café, both of which are open to the public as well as to hotel guests. Seasonal employees work five days a week and receive free meals during their shifts. Staff housing is available on site for $90 per week, a considerable savings compared with rents in nearby towns.

Front desk applicants must have at least one year of customer service experience, and restaurant servers must be at least 18 years old. All new seasonal staff are required to attend a two-day orientation; employees who cannot attend may not begin work until after the following session.

To apply, complete the online application and upload a résumé by April 15. Interviews are conducted by video call, and successful applicants typically receive an offer within two weeks of their interview.

Orientation Sessions — Lakeshore Lodge

| Session | Dates | Location |
|---|---|---|
| A | May 18–19 | Main Lodge, Conference Room |
| B | June 1–2 | Main Lodge, Conference Room |
| C | June 15–16 | Lakeview Pavilion |

Sessions begin at 9 A.M. each day. Lunch is provided.

Subject: Front desk application

Hello,

I have just submitted my application for a front desk position at Lakeshore Lodge, and I wanted to follow up with a few questions. I worked at the reception desk of the Larimer Hotel in Denver for two summers while in college, where I also helped train new staff during the busy season. However, my graduation ceremony is on May 18, and I am moving across the country the following week, so I would not be able to attend an orientation session until June. I hope this will not affect my application, as I am very interested in spending the summer at Lakeshore.

I would also like to stay in staff housing. Could you tell me whether rooms are shared, and whether I can move in a few days before my first shift?

Thank you,
Tomás Rivera

Hello,

I have received the invoice for our recent order, and I believe there are two errors. First, we did not request rush production. When I placed the order on February 10, after comparing quotes from three printers in the area, I told your sales representative, Ms. Hollis, that we would not need the labels until mid-March, and they were in fact delivered on February 27.

Second, the gift boxes were supposed to be printed on both sides, but all 400 arrived printed only on the front, so they cannot be used for our spring release, which is scheduled for the first weekend of April. We have been pleased with the quality of the labels, and we would like to continue working with Pressworks. I would appreciate a corrected invoice.

Dear Mr. Alder,

Thank you for bringing these issues to our attention, and please accept my apologies. We value our relationship with Alder Creek Winery, which has been one of our customers for more than six years. You are correct that the rush fee should not have been applied; it has been removed.

Regarding the gift boxes, our records show that the files we received contained artwork for the front only. However, since you and I discussed the two-sided design by phone and I failed to pass this along to our design team, we will reprint the boxes at no charge and remove them from your invoice. The new boxes will be ready by March 20, and a revised invoice will be sent to you today.

Jenna Hollis, Sales Representative

(B) A discount was applied to the order.

193. What is suggested about Ms. Hollis?

Carlton Museum Introduces Audio Tour App

CARLTON (May 2)—Visitors to the Carlton Museum of Natural History can now explore its collections with a free smartphone application called CarltonGo, which offers audio commentary on more than 200 exhibits in English, Spanish, and Korean. The app replaces the museum's handheld audio players, which were rented for $5 each and, according to museum staff, were frequently returned damaged.

Museum director Helen Oduya said the app was developed with the help of graduate students from Carlton University, who recorded most of the commentary. "Visitors told us they wanted to hear from scientists, not just read labels," she said. Recordings by the museum's own curators are planned for the new dinosaur hall, which opens this summer. Visitors who do not have a smartphone can borrow a tablet from the information desk at no charge.

Plan Your Visit

Hours: Tuesday–Sunday, 9 A.M.–5 P.M. (until 8 P.M. on Fridays). Closed Mondays.

Admission: Adults $18; seniors and students $12; children under 5 free. Tickets purchased online are valid for any day within one month of purchase. Members enjoy free admission and early access to new exhibitions.

CarltonGo: Download the free app before your visit to save time. Free Wi-Fi is available throughout the building except in the lower-level fossil galleries, where we recommend using the offline version of the tour.

Dinosaur Hall: Members-only preview on July 10; open to all visitors from July 12.

Great app, but plan ahead

★★★★☆

We visited the museum on a Saturday with our two kids and used the CarltonGo app throughout. The commentary was lively and informative, and my children, who are eight and eleven, loved choosing which exhibits to hear about. We were disappointed that the new dinosaur hall was still closed, but there was plenty to see.

My only frustration was that the audio stopped working when we went downstairs to see the fossils, and we had to rely on the printed labels for that part of the visit. The staff at the information desk were friendly and offered to lend us a tablet, but by then we were nearly finished. —Gwen Patel, July 13

196. According to the article, why were the audio players replaced?

(A) They were too expensive to produce.
(B) Many were returned in poor condition.
(C) They offered only one language.
(D) Visitors could not rent them on weekends.

197. Who recorded most of the app's current commentary?

(A) Museum curators
(B) University students
(C) Museum members
(D) Information desk staff

198. What is suggested about Ms. Patel's family?

(A) They had no offline tour downloaded.
(B) They visited on a Friday evening.
(C) They are members of the museum.
(D) They rented handheld audio players.

199. On what date did Ms. Patel most likely visit the museum?

(A) July 12
(B) July 10
(C) July 11
(D) July 13

200. What did the museum staff offer Ms. Patel?

(A) A discounted ticket
(B) A printed guide
(C) A tablet to borrow
(D) A free membership
