E-mail

To: Carla Mendes

From: Tom Becker, PrintPoint

Date: April 3

Subject: Order #2291

Dear Ms. Mendes,

Thank you for your order of 200 personalized notebooks for your company's sales conference. Unfortunately, the dark green cover you selected is temporarily unavailable from our supplier. We can offer the same notebook in navy blue at no extra cost, or we can wait for the green covers, which should arrive by April 20.

Since your conference begins on April 18, I would recommend the navy option. Your account manager, Ms. Liu, is out of the office until next week, so I am handling your order in the meantime. Please let me know which you prefer by Friday so that we can begin printing.

Best regards,
Tom Becker, Customer Service

Marlow Library Opens Maker Space

MARLOW (September 9)—The Marlow Public Library has converted a former storage room on its second floor into a maker space, where patrons can use 3D printers, laser cutters, and sewing machines free of charge. The project was funded by a $25,000 grant from the Hartley Foundation along with donations from several local businesses. The room, which had been used to store old furniture, was renovated over the summer by volunteers.

Library director Priya Raman said the space is intended to give residents access to equipment they could not otherwise afford. "We've seen students design robot parts and retirees repair furniture," she said.

Patrons must complete a one-hour orientation before using any of the equipment. Orientation sessions are held every Tuesday evening and Saturday morning, and registration opens one week in advance.

Small-Town Theater Finds New Audience

By Leo Hart

When the Bellmont Playhouse reopened in 2022 after a two-year closure, its directors worried that audiences would not return. The building, a former movie house on Elm Street, seats only 180 people. — [1] —. Instead, ticket sales last season reached their highest level in the theater's 60-year history.

Much of the credit goes to the theater's decision to stream its performances online. For $12, viewers anywhere can watch a live show from home. — [2] —. More than 40 percent of last season's revenue came from online viewers, many of whom live hundreds of kilometers away.

Artistic director Nora Ellis said the online audience has also changed which plays the theater produces. "We used to choose shows mainly for local tastes," she said. — [3] —. "Now we receive suggestions from viewers in other countries."

The Playhouse plans to install new cameras this winter to improve the quality of its streams. — [4] —. It has also hired two staff members to manage online sales.

164. What is the article mainly about?

(A) The history of a 60-year-old building
(B) A theater's success with online viewers
(C) A new play written by Ms. Ellis
(D) A camera company's latest product

(A) It recently added a second stage.
(B) It was founded by Ms. Ellis.
(C) It recently moved to a new city.
(D) It reopened after a long closure.

166. According to the article, how has the online audience affected the theater?

(A) It has lowered ticket prices.
(B) It has required a larger stage.
(C) It influences the selection of plays.
(D) It has led to longer performances.

167. In which of the positions marked [1], [2], [3], and [4] does the following sentence best belong?

"Those who prefer to watch later can view a recording for up to 48 hours."

(A) [1]
(B) [2]
(C) [3]
(D) [4]

Questions 172-175 refer to the following online chat discussion.

Ahmed Saleh (3:12 P.M.)
The client wants the package design finalized by Friday instead of next Wednesday.

Julia Novak (3:13 P.M.)
That's three working days early. Did they say why?

Ahmed Saleh (3:14 P.M.)
They moved up their product launch to match a competitor's.

Julia Novak (3:15 P.M.)
At least the text for the package has already been approved.

Ben Torres (3:16 P.M.)
The illustrations are done, but the printer still needs the color proofs.

Julia Novak (3:17 P.M.)
I can have the proofs ready by Thursday morning if I skip the team training tomorrow.

Ahmed Saleh (3:18 P.M.)
The training is recorded, isn't it?

Ben Torres (3:19 P.M.)
Yes, it'll be on the shared drive.

Julia Novak (3:20 P.M.)
Then I'll watch it next week. Ben, can you call the printer and ask them to hold a slot for Thursday afternoon?

Ben Torres (3:21 P.M.)
On it.

To:	bookings@swiftmove.com
From:	Hana Ortiz
Date:	May 2
Subject:	Moving estimate

Hello,

I am moving from a two-bedroom apartment in Lakewood to a house in Dunmore on Saturday, May 30. A friend who used your company last year recommended you, and I would like to book three movers. I estimate the move will take about four hours, since my new house is only a twenty-minute drive away.

I would also like to know whether your crew can take apart and reassemble a large bookcase, or whether I should do that myself before you arrive. I plan to pack all of my belongings myself, so I will not need your packing service. My building does not allow trucks to park in front before 9 A.M., so the crew should arrive no earlier than that. Could you send me a total estimate?

Questions 181-185 refer to the following article and e-mail.

Clearwater to Expand Curbside Recycling

CLEARWATER (January 10)—Beginning March 1, Clearwater residents will be able to place glass bottles and jars in their curbside recycling bins, the city's public works department announced on Monday. Until now, glass had to be dropped off at one of three collection centers, which many residents found inconvenient.

The change is possible because the city's recycling contractor, GreenCycle, recently installed new sorting equipment at its plant in Midvale. Collection days will remain the same, but pickups in the northern half of the city will begin at 6 A.M. instead of 7 A.M. to give trucks more time to complete their routes. GreenCycle expects the change to increase the amount of glass recycled in Clearwater by about 30 percent.

Residents with questions can call the public works hotline at 555-0120, which is open on weekdays from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. The three glass collection centers will close permanently on March 31.

E-mail

To:	publicworks@clearwater.gov
From:	Marcus Lee
Date:	March 9
Subject:	Recycling pickup

Hello,

I live on Birch Street in the northern part of the city. Last Thursday, the recycling truck came earlier than usual, before I had put my bin out, so my bottles and other recyclables were not collected. I tried calling your hotline on Saturday morning to ask about it, but no one answered. My neighbors across the street had the same problem.

I now have a large number of glass jars left over from a home canning project. Could someone tell me whether I can still take them to the collection center on Pine Road, or whether I should wait for my next pickup?

Thank you,
Marcus Lee

GO ON TO THE NEXT PAGE

181. What is the article mainly about?

(A) The opening of a new collection center
(B) A change to a city recycling service

Workshops

The Northwest Food Business Expo takes place at the Elm Harbor Convention Center on October 7 and 8. In addition to the exhibition hall, the expo offers small-group workshops led by industry experts. Each workshop is limited to 25 participants and costs $45, or $30 for members of the Northwest Restaurant Association. Workshop fees are not included in general expo admission, which costs $25 per day. Free parking is available in the center's east garage, and lunch can be purchased in the exhibition hall.

Participants who register for three or more workshops receive a free copy of Running a Profitable Kitchen, a guide written by expo founder Carla Benz. Registrations may be canceled for a full refund until September 30; after that date, a credit toward next year's expo will be issued instead.

Workshop Schedule

Workshop	Leader	Date / Time
Menu Pricing Basics	Sam Ortega	Oct. 7, 10:00–11:30
Reducing Food Waste	Mei Lin	Oct. 7, 1:00–2:30
Hiring and Training Staff	Raj Patel	Oct. 8, 10:00–11:30
Marketing on a Small Budget	Carla Benz	Oct. 8, 1:00–2:30

All workshops are held in Room 204 unless otherwise noted. Seating is first-come, first-served.

Hello,

I have attended the expo every year since my restaurant opened in 2019. Last week I registered for three workshops: Menu Pricing Basics, Reducing Food Waste, and Marketing on a Small Budget. As a member of the Northwest Restaurant Association, I paid the member rate. Unfortunately, my restaurant's head chef has just resigned, and I will need to interview candidates on the afternoon of October 7. Could I switch the workshop I signed up for that afternoon to the session on hiring and training staff? I understand that it is too late for a refund.

Also, I have not yet received the book that was promised. Will it be mailed to me, or should I pick it up at the expo?

Diego Marín

186. What is indicated about the workshops?

(A) They are included in the price of expo admission.
(B) They are held outdoors.
(C) They are taught online.
(D) Each one has a limited number of seats.

187. How much did Mr. Marín most likely pay for his workshops?

(A) $135
(B) $90
(C) $45
(D) $75

188. Which workshop does Mr. Marín want to drop?

(A) Reducing Food Waste
(B) Menu Pricing Basics
(C) Marketing on a Small Budget
(D) Hiring and Training Staff

189. Why can Mr. Marín not receive a refund?

(A) He paid the member rate.
(B) He contacted the expo after a deadline.
(C) He used a discount code.
(D) He paid for them with a credit card.

190. What is suggested about the book Mr. Marín mentions?

(A) It is sold for $45 to nonmembers.
(B) It will be mailed to him after the expo ends.
(C) It is about reducing food waste.
(D) It was written by one of the workshop leaders.

Questions 191-195 refer to the following notice, form, and e-mail.

Harborside Lofts — Community Room Reservations

Residents may reserve the second-floor community room for private gatherings of up to 30 guests. Reservations can be made for a maximum of four hours between 9 A.M. and 10 P.M. A $50 cleaning deposit is required and will be returned if the room is left in its original condition. Residents must submit a request form to the management office at least seven days before the event. The room may not be reserved more than twice in one month by the same resident.

The room includes tables, chairs, a kitchenette with a refrigerator and microwave, and a television with a sound system. Please note that cooking on the stovetop is not permitted, and all decorations must be removed by the end of the reservation period.

Subject: Community room

Dear Ms. Shah,

Congratulations to your daughter on her graduation. Thank you for leaving the community room in such good condition after your daughter's party on Saturday. I have returned your deposit in full, and it should appear in your account within three business days.

I also wanted to let you know that one of your guests left a blue jacket on a chair. It is being kept at the front desk, where you can pick it up anytime between 8 A.M. and 8 P.M.

Finally, several residents have asked whether the community room could be reserved for longer events. The building's board will discuss this at its next meeting on July 2, and I will share the outcome in the residents' newsletter.

Sincerely,
Kevin Wu

191. What is the purpose of the notice?

(A) To describe how residents can use a shared room
(B) To announce the opening of a new building
(C) To advertise a catering service
(D) To describe a renovation project

192. What are residents NOT allowed to do in the community room?

(A) Cook food on the stovetop
(B) Use the microwave
(C) Watch television
(D) Put up decorations for a party

193. Why was the time of Ms. Shah's reservation changed?

(A) It went past the room's closing time.
(B) It was for too many guests.
(C) It was submitted too late.
(D) It was made by someone who is not a resident.

194. What is suggested about Ms. Shah?

(A) She left a jacket at the party.
(B) She has lived there for ten years.
(C) She received her $50 back.
(D) She plans to host another event in July.

195. According to the e-mail, what will happen on July 2?

(A) A newsletter will be delivered.
(B) The community room will be closed.
(C) Some apartments will be inspected.
(D) A possible policy change will be considered.

Questions 196-200 refer to the following article, Web page, and e-mail.

Local Firm Launches Home Coffee Roaster

PORTLAND (April 2)—Bean & Brass, a Portland-based maker of kitchen appliances, has released the HomeRoast 1, a countertop coffee roaster designed for home use. The machine, which roasts up to 250 grams of green coffee beans in about 15 minutes, is the company's first product aimed at consumers rather than cafés.

Company founder Elena Voss said she designed the roaster after customers of her commercial machines asked for a smaller version. "Many baristas wanted to experiment at home," she said. The HomeRoast 1 includes a smoke filter, which Ms. Voss said makes it suitable for apartments.

The roaster sells for $349 on the company's Web site and will be available in select kitchen stores beginning in June.

Hello,

I bought a HomeRoast 1 from your Web site on April 28 and have been very happy with it. I roast a batch almost every day, so I am already close to needing a new filter. So far, I have tried beans from three different countries. Could you tell me whether the filters can be cleaned and reused, or whether they must be thrown away?

I also meant to register my roaster online but have not done so yet. Is it too late? Finally, my sister would like to buy one as a gift for her husband. Is there a store in Seattle where she can see it in person?

Owen Price

196. What is the article mainly about?

(A) A new product for home use
(B) A café that roasts its own coffee
(C) A kitchen store opening in June
(D) A contest for local baristas

197. According to the article, why did Ms. Voss create the HomeRoast 1?

(A) She wanted to open her own café.
(B) Her company's sales had been falling.
(C) Apartment owners asked for a filter.
(D) Customers requested a smaller machine.

198. What is suggested about Mr. Price?

(A) He bought his roaster in a store.
(B) He works as a barista.
(C) He has returned his roaster.
(D) He can still get a longer warranty.

199. What will Mr. Price's sister most likely be told?

(A) The roaster is sold out in Seattle.
(B) The roaster costs less in stores.
(C) The roaster cannot be shipped as a gift.
(D) The roaster is not yet sold in stores.

200. The word "aimed" in paragraph 1, line 7, of the article is closest in meaning to

(A) pointed
(B) hoped
(C) targeted
(D) thrown
