The decision follows a record-setting season in which the ferry transported more than 210,000 passengers between Port Elgin and Gull Island.

Authority director Simone Achebe attributed the increase primarily to the opening of the Gull Island Nature Reserve, which has drawn visitors from across the region since it began welcoming the public in May. "Hotel and restaurant operators on the island have been requesting a longer season for years," Ms. Achebe said. "Until now, passenger numbers simply did not justify the additional expense."

Questions 164-167 refer to the following e-mail.

To:	Gwen Asante <gasante@halvorsenlabs.com>
From:	Tomasz Zielinski <tzielinski@exposetdisplays.com>
Date:	October 6
Subject:	Booth design for Medica Expo

Dear Ms. Asante,

It was a pleasure speaking with you last week about your company's exhibit at the upcoming Medica Expo in Chicago. As promised, I have attached two preliminary designs for your consideration. The first is similar to the layout Halvorsen Labs used last year, with a reception counter at the front and product displays along the back wall. The second replaces the counter with an open seating area, an arrangement that several of our clients have found encourages visitors to stay longer.

Both designs fit within the six-by-three-meter space you have reserved and make use of the display panels we built for you two years ago, so the only new materials required would be the printed graphics, which keeps the cost considerably lower than that of a completely new booth. If you would like to include the video screen we discussed, I will need to know by October 15, as rental equipment for events of this size tends to be reserved quickly.

I will be visiting a client near your office next Tuesday and would be glad to stop by to go over the designs in person. Please let me know whether that would be convenient.

Best regards,
Tomasz Zielinski
Senior Designer, Exposet Displays

166. According to the e-mail, why should Ms. Asante respond by October 15?

(A) To receive a reduced price
(B) To make sure some equipment is available
(C) To qualify for early registration
(D) To schedule a delivery date

167. What does Mr. Zielinski offer to do?

Subject: Rental on May 8

To Whom It May Concern:

I manage the Harborview Inn, and last Friday one of my employees rented a carpet cleaner from your Bull Street branch so that we could clean the carpet in our banquet hall before a wedding reception. The hall measures nearly 300 square meters, and although the machine we were given worked properly, it was clearly not designed for a space of that size. Completing the job took my staff the better part of two days, which caused considerable disruption to our other preparations.

I do not dispute the invoice we have received, but I would have appreciated being informed that a more suitable machine could be obtained at your other location. We clean our carpets every few months, and I would like to continue renting from you. Could you tell me whether the larger machine can be reserved ahead of time?

A memorable afternoon

My sister and I were in Edinburgh for a conference and had one free day, a Saturday, so we booked a tour with Lantern City Walks on a colleague's recommendation. Our guide, Callum, grew up a few streets from where the tour began, and his stories about the neighbourhood's fishing families made every stop more meaningful. The portions were generous—neither of us needed dinner that evening—and the smoked salmon at the second stop was the best I have ever tasted.

My one complaint is that the group felt overcrowded. I counted sixteen participants, and at two of the smaller shops some people had to wait outside. Still, I would happily go again, and next time I will make room in my schedule for the evening tour as well. —Ingrid Solberg

Hartwell Business Association: Autumn Workshop Series

The Hartwell Business Association (HBA) is pleased to present its annual series of workshops for owners and managers of small businesses. This year's sessions will be held on four consecutive Wednesday evenings in October at the Hartwell Civic Centre. Each workshop begins at 6:30 P.M. and is preceded by a light supper, served from 5:45 P.M., courtesy of Marlow's Bakery.

Workshops are free for HBA members; non-members pay £20 per session. Because of the popularity of last year's series, seating is limited to forty participants per session, and places will be allocated in the order in which registrations are received. To register, e-mail the series coordinator, Fiona Garrity, at fgarrity@hartwellba.org.uk by 25 September. Members who attend all four sessions will receive a certificate of completion at the association's annual dinner in December.

Subject: Workshop series

Dear Ms. Garrity,

I would like to register for the autumn workshop series. I joined the association in the spring, shortly after opening my bicycle repair shop on Kiln Lane, and I found the summer networking breakfast extremely worthwhile.

I plan to attend three of the four sessions. Unfortunately, I will be at a trade exhibition in Birmingham from 12 to 15 October and will have to miss the session that week, which is a pity, as I expect to take on an assistant early next year. Would it be possible to obtain a copy of the presenter's slides?

I also have a question about the session on 21 October. I do not own a laptop. Will computers be provided, or should I arrange to borrow one?

Finally, I should mention that I cannot eat wheat. If the supper consists mainly of sandwiches and pastries, I will simply have something before I arrive.

Kind regards,
Tom Ashby, Ashby Cycles

Aquarium Design and Care

Blue Reef Aquatics designs, installs, and maintains custom aquariums for offices, restaurants, hotels, and medical clinics. Research has shown that aquariums have a calming effect, which is why so many of our clients place them in waiting areas.

Every project begins with a free on-site consultation, during which one of our designers measures the space and discusses your budget. Installation is usually completed within three weeks of your approval of the design. We then offer four maintenance plans:

- Basic: monthly cleaning and water testing
- Standard: cleaning and water testing every two weeks; replacement of filters as needed
- Plus: weekly cleaning and water testing; replacement of filters as needed
- Premium: all Plus services; fish and plants replaced at no charge

Clients on any plan may call our 24-hour help line. Tanks larger than 1,000 liters require the written approval of the building's owner.

Subject: Your aquarium

Dear Dr. Adeyemi,

Thank you for meeting with me on Friday. As we discussed, a 600-liter freshwater tank would fit comfortably along the wall beside your reception desk without blocking the corridor to the treatment rooms. I have attached a drawing showing the tank and the cabinet beneath it, which would hold the filter and other equipment out of sight.

You mentioned that your staff would not have time to look after the tank and that you would like us to visit as often as possible; I have therefore prepared the estimate on that basis. If you approve the design by March 10, our crew could complete the installation before your clinic reopens on April 1 following its renovation.

Sincerely,
Kristen Vogel, Designer

A great addition to our clinic

We had an aquarium installed by Blue Reef Aquatics this spring, and it has been a wonderful investment. The crew finished the work in two days, well before our reopening, and left the reception area spotless. Our patients, the younger ones especially, love watching the fish, and several have told us that it makes them less nervous about their appointments.

The technician who comes each week, Marco, is punctual and friendly, and when two of our fish died in May, he brought replacements on his next visit without our having to ask. The only difficulty we had was with the cabinet door, which did not close properly at first, but Ms. Vogel sent someone to adjust it the day after I called. —Samuel Adeyemi, June 12

Elmhurst Night Market Returns

ELMHURST (April 14)—The Elmhurst Night Market will return to Founders Square on the first Friday of every month from May through September, the town's events office confirmed this week. Now in its third year, the market features food stalls, handmade goods, and live music, and it drew an estimated 4,000 visitors on its busiest evening last summer.

New this year is a section reserved for vendors who have never before sold at the market. "We want to give start-ups a chance to test their ideas without a large financial commitment," said events officer Laura Benitez. Stalls in the new section will be offered at half the usual fee, although each business may occupy one for no more than two market nights.

The town will again run a free shuttle bus between the square and the Mill Street car park, as parking near the square is limited.

Subject:	Night market application

Dear Ms. Benitez,

I read about this year's night market in the Elmhurst Courier and would like to apply for a stall at the May and June markets. My wife and I opened a small restaurant, Seoul Bowl, on Cedar Street last autumn, and we have not taken part in an event of this kind before. We would be serving rice bowls and dumplings and would need a power supply for our rice cookers and a small refrigerator.

I have attached the application form and a copy of our health certificate. Our canopy is dark green, as it carries our restaurant's colors. Is it acceptable to use it, or will we need to obtain another one?

Thank you,
Joon-ho Park
