Riverbend to Rent Garden Plots

RIVERBEND (February 20)—The Riverbend Parks Department will rent out 40 garden plots at Elm Park beginning April 1. Small plots (3 x 3 meters) will cost $25 per season, and large plots (3 x 6 meters) will cost $40. Residents of Riverbend will receive a 20 percent discount.

Applications will be accepted from March 1 to March 15. If more applications are received than there are plots, plots will be assigned by lottery. Water and basic gardening tools will be provided, but gardeners must supply their own seeds and plants.

"Many residents live in apartment buildings and have no space to grow vegetables," said parks director Tomas Reyes. "This program gives them that opportunity."

E-mail

To:	parks@riverbend.gov
From:	Grace Lin
Date:	March 27
Subject:	Garden plot

Dear Parks Department,

Thank you for letting me know that I was given a large plot at Elm Park. I have lived in Riverbend for six years, and I am excited to start growing my own vegetables.

I have two questions. First, my friend Sara Patel, who lives in neighboring Ashford, would like to help me with the plot. Is that allowed? Second, I have some tools of my own that I would like to keep at the garden. Is there a place to store them there?
